THE WORLD'S WORK DEPENDS ON THE WORLD'S DIGESTION

From the captain of industry to the head porter—from mule to the auto to the woman with the scrubbing brush—the accomplishments of every one of us depend absolutely on the accomplishment of our stomachs. Backed by a good digestion, a man can give the best of himself in his work. When his stomach fails, he becomes a weakling.

To this loss of power no one need submit. Right habits of eating, drinking, sleeping and exercise, aided by Dr. Duggan's Tablets, will restore and maintain the full efficiency of the human mind and body.

Dr. Duggan's Tablets contain the active principles needed for the digestion of every kind of food. They go to the assistance of the weakened stomach, and enable the sufferer, right from the start, to assimilate and get the benefit of the food eaten. With this assistance, the digestive organs regain their tone, and soon the use of the tablets is no longer necessary.

If your stomach is not working properly, try Dr. Duggan's Tablets. National Drug and Chemical Co. of Canada, Limited, Montreal.

Walter, said a traveler in a railroad restaurant, did you say I had twenty minutes to eat, as tho' all he'd do have. Yer train's just gone.

A woman went into a small grocery shop and the assistant (a neighbor's daughter) came forward to serve her. What can I get for you, please? she said.

I want a cake, she replied snappily, and added, but I don't want you to serve me. Where's your master?

The assistant went to him and said: The lady wants a cake, but does not want me to serve her.

The grocer came forward and said: Omeo, madam?

Know her? I should think I did! And I don't want everybody in the street to know what I am having for tea on Sunday.

A Bit of 'Hole' Right

A well-known Lancashire farmer possessed of a considerable amount of humor, had for a long time been petitioning the local urban council to fill up a deep muddy hole in the common before his house, but without result. One very wet night, however, as he was seated comfortably before his fire, a tremendous cry for help was heard from the outside. The farmer, seeing a lantern and the door ajar, peered out into the darkness, to find three of the council men on their feet home from a meeting, had missed their way across the common, and were now struggling in the mud-hole.

Well, gentlemen, said the old Lancashire son of the soil, as he surveyed them grimly, I am glad to see you stirring in this matter at last.

Sympathetic Don't you ever find it hard to be a freak asked the stoutly, tightly-laced woman who had stopped to converse with the fat lady.

No, not a bit, was the reply. I often feel sorry for some of you people who find it so hard not to be freaks.

A Real Asthma Relief.—J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy has never been advertised by extravagant statements. Its claims are conservative, and when judged by the cures which it performs. Expect real relief and permanent benefit when you buy this remedy, and you will not have cause for disappointment. It gives permanent relief in many cases where other so-called remedies have utterly failed.

No Stone Unturned A countryman who visited London told his gold watch. He trotted off to Scotland Yard and found his watch there. With their usual politeness they informed him that they could not find it, but that they would endeavor to find his watch.

A few days later he went through some of the leading thoroughfares and saw street after street turned up and told that a few miles were in the same condition.

He ran off to Scotland Yard and said: I didn't think I was giving you a hard time, but now I see you are.

Crabbed The literary young man had just taken possession of a smart young lady at a party and was at last for a topic of conversation.

Oh, Miss J. I suppose you are familiar with Crabbe's tales?

Young man (confusedly)—I beg pardon, should have said Crabbe's tales.

Young lady (still more scornfully)—And I was not aware that Crabbe had tails, either.

Farmer John—This is the New York Stock Exchange my dear. All those running about on the floor are brokers.

Mrs. John—My! I should think they would get tired. Don't they ever sit down?

Farmer John—I guess not. Seats here cost about $70,000 apiece.

STAG COMMITS SUICIDE

Animal Was the Aggressor and Was Beaten in Evenly Matched Contest

London, England.—Vanquished in a desperate fight with one of its kind, a fallow deer was drowned in a manner much resembling suicide at Bushy Park, a park ranger, who witnessed the combat stated that fights have been very frequent during the last week among the park deer, and this battle to the death was the sequel to a series of challenges.

The combatants were perfectly matched in size and strength. Both were exceptionally fine animals, aged between eight and nine years, and possessing large spreading antlers. The beaten stag was the aggressor. He provoked a fight by dashing into his rival during a run across the turf.

The challenge was promptly accepted, and the pair faced each other near the Leg of Mutton Pond.

For half an hour they fought, mortgaging with pain and rage. Paving the ground with their hoofs, they met head to head, looking their antlers and seeking to force each other to the ground. Backward and forward, round and round they wrestled only to break away and maneuver for position.

Gradually the challenged animal worked his opponent toward the water, when the latter threw all his strength into one last desperate charge, culminated with a crash, and one of the horns of the challenger was snapped off.

The victor followed, but the park ranger, for assistance, beaten stag went straight into the water, and buried his head in the mud.

The park ranger, for assistance, beaten stag went straight into the water, and buried his head in the mud.

I have no doubt that the animal sought death willfully, said the ranger. The strange thing was that when beaten in a fight, they act as if they were ashamed to be seen.

WOMAN LAUDS SOLDIERS

Gentlemen, she says, a Noble Poe and With a Splendid Spirit

London, England.—Miss Eleanor Wareham, the sister of Admiral Sir George Wareham, has just arrived in London after spending three months in Greece, where she was nursing the wounded.

This was her first experience of such service. She was with the Greek army in the West in the South African hospital ship Maine. For her good work there she was awarded a medal by the Order of the St. John.

The Greeks, Miss Wareham says, have fought bravely and they have, for the most part, skillfully led. They are not poor men, but also they gave up everything to serve their country.

We had a hospital orderly, who, when the Greek soldiers were in a very bad way, he took them all with a serene desire to keep him out of Europe. One can not wonder when one knows from experience what horrors the Turkish soldiers have committed here.

Things unspeakable! she said below her breath. Yes, she continued, the Greek is a gentleman, a noble foe. At Salonica the Greek soldiers actually protected the Turkish soldiers from the wild with fury, illustrating them. And they always accepted the parole of the Turkish officers until they found that so many abuses this privilege and acted as spies for the Turks.

The hatred of the Turk inspired them all with a serene desire to keep him out of Europe. One can not wonder when one knows from experience what horrors the Turkish soldiers have committed here.

Positive Proof

Samuel Untermyer, the New York lawyer, said in Washington of a certain exposure.

The proof was positive as positive as the proof against the barber. There was a barber who was accused of secret inebriety, but his old friend refused to credit such a charge.

A stanch old patron went to the man who served one morning. The barber in silence began to lather him, and then suddenly seized him by the nose.

Lathering away, the barber gripped the nose so firmly that its owner grunted in pain.

Here, let go my nose! But the barber, still holding on tight said as he lathered steadily on: Can't. If I did I'd fall down.

A MOTHER'S DUTY TO HER DAUGHTER

Requires That Her Blood Supply Be Kept Rich, Red and Pure.

Every mother who calls to mind her own childhood days will realize that her daughter is likely to need help and strength during the years between childhood and womanhood.

It is then that growing girls droop and become fragile, bloodless and nervous. Nature is calling for more nourishment than the blood can supply and signs of distress are plainly evident in ill eyes, pallid cheeks, aching backs, a languid step, fits of depression, headaches and a dislike for the things which once were enjoyed.

The watchful mother takes prompt steps to give her girl the new, better system is thirsting for by giving Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

These pills are made of purest ingredients and are a blessing to me. I had been a sufferer for almost two years from anemia, and seemed, no matter what I tried, to be growing weaker and weaker.

COLT DISTEMPER

Can be handled very easily. The virus is not contagious and all others in same stable, no matter how long they have been in the stable, will not be affected.

When the boy had gone the vicar's wife said: You didn't tell him to get anything in the other jug, is he going to leave it at the shop?

No, ma'am, he's going to bring it back here again.

But why send two jugs to get a quart of molasses?

Well, you see, it's this way.—If he has a jug in each hand, he can't go dipping his finger in the molasses and eating it as he comes along.

Pills for Nervous Troubles.—The stomach is the center of the nervous system, and when the stomach supply is disturbed, the result is manifest in disturbances of the nerves. If allowed to persist, nervous debility, a dangerous ailment, may ensue. The first consideration is to restore the stomach to proper action, and there is no readier remedy for this than Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

his former visitations, and his majority is no less evidenced.

Constable Searle, of the R. N. W. M. P., was this week promoted to the rank of corporal, and is being transferred to Pincher Creek. The vacancy here is being filled by a constable from Pincher Creek.

There is a good representation of "wage-slaves" in some parts of Blairmore. They are slaves to the idea of shunning work and planning how to impose their slovenliness upon the charitably inclined.

Miss Rattle, of the Presbyterian Board of Social Service, is to speak at the Mission Hall next Thursday evening, and is willing to be interrupted as election results come to hand and are announced at the meeting. Dick Marshall is billed for a fifteen-round boxing bout with Jack Rogers at Fernie on Wednesday, the 23rd inst. Happenings in and Around Burmis

Jas. Taylor was visiting Burmis this week as agent for the Liffy Adjustment Agency, investigating the cause, etc., of the fire which destroyed the pool room last week.

We understand that Mr. Chalmers had $2,000 insurance on the pool table, bowling alley, etc., that he brought from Coleman, also $800 on an addition he had built for living room, and that Mr. Stevens had the original building and pool tables insured for $800.

James Daugill is indulging in a trip to Winnipeg. We hear on very reliable authority that he intends to buy a carpet for his home while away. Wow.

The adjustment of the polling divisions for Burmis and Passburg has been made and the inhabitants will not have to go to Bellevue as at first set out, to register their vote in the Conservative cause.

Mrs. H. Smith, we regret to state, has been seriously ill, but is now making satisfactory progress towards recovery.

Mrs. Sam Fisher will be leaving for the old Country next week, her many friends will be sorry to see her go.

The nucleus of the Burmis football team met last week to study out how long it would take for them to develop into a full blown eleven. We understand that they are now working in "suds" but do not anticipate any solution of the difficulty until the "calculation" is resorted to.

Charles Scheldner and Paddy Kennedy are the two worthy representatives of the Socialist cause in Burmis. Talk about bunk house oratory! Well I guess!

At the ordinary meeting of the Gazette it was again decided that the President should outline the political situation with a view to guiding members as to the correct standpoint for them to take up on polling day.

On rising the President wished them to note all the remarks he had made previously on the Liberal-Labor line of bunk.

These remarks were not made with the purpose of discrimination with reference to J. O. Jones, but applied equally all round; so having absorbed this, the next question was, who is the most worthy of support—the Socialist or the Conservative. In direct reference to this question I would ask—do you want representation in the house or not? If you want representation, if you want to put in a man who counts one when the division time comes, if you want value for the money you pay by way of indirect or direct taxation then you must vote for Campbell. There are several reasons why Bob Campbell should get your support. He is not a Socialist, that is the first reason; he is not a Liberal that is the second reason; and he is not that hybrid, lunge growth known as a Liberal-Labor candidate.

I admire Charlie because he plays with his game in spite of the fact that he is fighting a losing cause, but men like Powell and Jones, Jones in particular, as his life is without doubt a Liberal and always was, whereas Jones is just a modern multi-party slob, should be passed up with a rapid quick fire action. Speaking of the honorable Charles, I know him personally and he is a good sport, etc., etc., but that is not prepared under their propaganda to take a side, he gains sympathy and deliberately loses it and when it comes to a show down, or to be more parliamentary, a division, Charles is left high and dry. Mark my words, he is a good politician but uses his abilities in doing nothing but dodging support. Cheap martyrdom, that is all it amounts to. He comes around, addresses us as fellow slaves, or if he is feeling good, "comrades," and poses as being a man who has advocated this and that and been turned down by everybody.

Brethren, his position is false. It has no foundation, and what is more important for us, we are living under a system of party government and will be in time to come, and must have a vote in the house. Charlie's statement that the ties form good enough highway for the slaves he represents is not calculated to impress anybody with the idea that he intends to alter his ways, so pass him or. What we want is representations, and having got that we want natural resources, good roads, technical education, and we don't want direct taxation.

If Jones knew the first thing about business administration he would blush as red as the tie he has just taken off his shirt front at the invidious position of Liberal anything and so would Powell, but both have had their schooling in the A. M. W. A., which though an excellent institution in principle has been a n badly managed. Take the Fernie Ledger occasionally and see the way the Jones-Stubbis bunch try to bunco the organization.

In Campbell we have a man and a gentleman. He knows this western country from a to z, was in the Pass like the C. P. R. a man who will tell the northern part of this riding solid and what is more, to go a man who will have a vote in the house and draft. I say, use it!

The Dominion government is Conservative, we have everything to win and nothing to lose by making the Provincial government Conservative. There is only one way to do this that is at the polls. Now altogether, three cheers for Campbell! Campbell! Campbell! Campbell! That's Burmis.

Steve Humble is greatly improving his store by the addition of two show cases of the silent-salesman type.

Mrs. Fred Wolstenholme gave a birthday party at her home on Friday evening.

A birthday party was given on Monday evening by Miss Deborah Letherland, of Maple Leaf.

Mr. Bowie, of the Hillcrest Co-op, met with an accident while driving through a snow drift near the station on Monday. The wheel of his buggy was completely smashed, but beyond that nothing serious happened.

Operations will commence at once on the new block of stores to be built by J. Whittier. This will be the most pretentious block in Bellevue and will greatly enhance the appearance of the town.

The Burns block is nearing completion and the stable is now in course of erection. The company have their stock of ice all up and are prepared for business.

What might have been a serious accident occurred on Friday evening just east of the mine yard when a car left the trucks while being shunted on the track. The smash-up resulting cost the C. P. R. three cars which were completely demolished. Fortunately no one was hurt.

Willie Cousins met with a painful accident at the mine on Monday evening while playing with some other boys around the yard. Coming into contact with a mine car he had his fingers badly crushed. He was attended by Dr. MacKenzie.

Miss Glendenning, of Coleman, was a Bellevue visitor on Tuesday.

J. F. Miller, the optical expert, was doing a rushing business here on Tuesday.

Miss McNulty was a Coleman visitor on Sunday.

Albert Hallworth and family will occupy the house vacated by Mr. Matson recently.

Matt Matson and family moved to Coleman this week. Mr. Matson was one of the oldest residents of Bellevue and his absence will be greatly noticed by all the old timers here.

The infant son of W. Newton, the local boxer, died on Sunday morning.

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. Shone has been ill for the past week, which has delayed their moving to Calgary.

Ned Drake is the busiest man in Bellevue these days. Ned is working for the election of Charlie O'Brien. He states that he is handicapped by having no Socialist beer or cigars, this brand is not yet on the market. Nevertheless Ned says that truth and right are on his side and he is sure that Charlie is on the way back to Edmonton.

The football association held a meeting on Sunday evening. The enthusiasts are delighted over the prospects for the coming year. Every week sees the arrival of new men who promise to make good.

The union held a lengthy meeting on Sunday when the political situation was aired from all sides. The general disposition is to keep out of politics in this campaign. Every man will vote according as the merits of the respective candidates appeal to him, without any coercion on the part of the organization.

At the church next Sunday evening Mr. Irwin will deal further with the political situation. An open discussion is invited at the close of the service.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson, of Monarch, were Bellevue visitors on Friday last.

S. Humble has been laid up for a few days, but is showing signs of recovery.

Mrs. S. Humble visited Coleman on Wednesday evening.

The Rev. D. Watkins-Jones, of Coleman, held English church service in the Methodist church here last Sunday afternoon. The congregation listened to a very able discourse in commemoration of the Titanic disaster of one year ago.

A hard-time dance was given by the Bachelors Forward Movement of Bellevue in the Socialist hall on Friday night. There were about twenty couples in costume and a very pleasant time was participated in.

A christening service took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Courne on Monday evening, when their infant daughter was named Florence Ruby. Rev. W. H. Irwin officiated.

WHY HE WAS LATE
"What made you so late?"
"I met Smithson."

"Well, that is no reason why you should be an hour late getting home tonight?"

"Did you tell him to take Chamberlain's Tablets?"
